WEYLER A TRAITOR.

He May Turn Havana Over to the Insurgents.

POSITIVELY REFUSES TO RETIRE

Too Long a Ruler to Submit to the Dictates of the Minister of War - The Situa-May Be Looked For Within the Next

New York, Oct. 22.—A dispatch to The Herald from Havana says: In spite of all his protests to the contrary new quarters he has engaged for the General Weyler, when it comes to the actual test of resigning his command, exhibited great reluctance. He has refused to give over authority as captain general to his duly appointed successor, although peremptorily ordered to do so by Spain's minister of war.

The situation is critical. Senor Sagasta can not, it is believed, permit his ministry to be openly defied by General to extreme measures to remove the eaptain general. Over and over again, Captain General Weyler has affirmed he would do nothing to embarrass his country, but actions speak louder than Castellanos arrived in the capital late Monday night. He had been appointed by Spain's minister of war to replace General Weyler until General Blanco arrived in Cuba. Castellanos was in the field when the appointment came, but ho at once started for the palaco. In some unaccountable way a man-ofwar sent to fetch him was retarded. Castellanos proceeded to the palace ou Tuesday morning expecting to be sworn in as captain general. But it was very in as captain general. But it was very soon apparent that General Weylor did not intend that anything of the sort should happen. He made excuses and hesitated until Castellanos was provoked to cable the situation to Madrid. A roply came quickly. It was a peremptory order that General Weyler should vacate and that the newly appointed man should assume command at once

But even then General Weyler did not obey. He told Castellanos that before he would hand over the office he must have a written statement from his successor to the effect that the four western provinces were pacified. Now Castellanos had been in the field and knew the trnth and refused to sign any such document.

This happened Tuesday evening. General Weyler is still captain general and in effect defies any one to divest him of his authority. General Weyier's intimate friends assert that he will not relinquish command until a few sail for Spain. The date of his departure is now fixed for Oct. 80. But it was once before fixed for the 20th. There is time for much to happen before General Blanco arrives.

General Wevler entertained the colonels of the volunteer force at a banquet in the palace on Monday night. It was a splendid affair and the wines were of the best. During the course of the evening General Weyler made a speech full of insinuations. General Weyler attempted to justify himself beforehand for anything he might do to prevent Spain's present ministry from earrying out what he thought was a policy that would bring disaster to his beloved country. There is little doubt that the volunteer force in Cuba is with General Weyler. He has looked after them well; he has uniformed and armed them well and they enjoy many privileges. They have a good deal to lose and nothing to gain if the Cubans are given a liberal voice in the government,

The volunteer force is composed chiefly of petty officeholders, clerks, laborers, waiters, porters, etc. It nnmbers in Havana alone more than 30,000 men, a well drilled and strong looking body of men. With them General

Weyler is power. In the meantime the rebels are ready and eager for the winter campaign. The movement westward is slow, but sure. It is a significant fact that Gencral Gomez is not following his usual marches have been bold, swift dashes, with the advancing force split up into small bodies, but this time it is different. There is something solid about tho very slowness of movement. It betokens heavy baggage trains; it means artillory; it means the laying of a permanent base of supplies; it means that the rebels are coming to stay. The vanguard of the invading army has been reported near Santa Clara eity.

OPENED THE EYES OF SPAIN. Authorities at Washington Not Surprised at Weyler's Actions.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.-The news to open the eyes of Spain and has reconfirms the dispatches which were silver, was carried away. printed last week. It was stated then that the Cubaus in Washington had intimation that General Weyler would refuse to obey the orders from Madrid, and that he was preparing to turn Havana over to the insurgents. His actions were then looked upon with suspicion by the Spanish authorities, and now the confirmatory dispatches both from Madrid and Havana fully justify all that was said at that time.

As yet the state department has not had any confirmatory dispatches from Havana, and while the officials do not talk for publication, they do not express any surprise at the developments. The officials do not expect any immediate trouble however. Secretari Sherman leaves next week for his home in Mans field, O., and what is more significant, it is officially announced that Consul General Lee will not return to Havana until Dee. 5.

DE LOME CALLS ON SHERMAN. An Hour Spent in Earnest Conversation, but Its Import Not Made Public.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Senor Dupuy De Lome, the Spanish minister, was among Secretary Sherman's callers yesterday, it being diplomatic day, and spent almost an hour in earnest consultion Critical and Startling Developments | tation with the secretary and with Assistant Secretary Adee, who was sent for by the secretary. The minister is stopping in the city only for a short time at present, owing to the fact that he is not able to obtain possession of the legation until next December. He will make his home with his family in New Yerk for the month of November, coming over to Washington once every week to transact the legation business. In December he expects to open the legation in its new home at the corner of Eighteenth street and Connecticut av-

So far as the officials at the state de-partment know there is no prospect of Weyler and yet he may have to resort a change in the ministry here, certainly not in the near future, or perhaps at all the experience of Senor Dupuy de Lome making his services in Washingten extremely necessary to the Spanish government in its transition stages.

The Knights of Pythias, in connection with their secret order, have an insurance organization known as the cndowinent rank. Jan. 1 the surplus funds in the treasury of this rank were said to be between $400,000 and $500,-000, partially in cash and partially in gilt-edged scenrities. From this fund Heretofore his westward the $200,000 given to the Lexington hotel interests is said to have come. At the best it is not expected that the money can be recovered from the hotel property for years.

They had stolen a rig, however, into which they sprang with their booty and made their oscape. They drove north toward this city, where all trace was lost. The rig was found in the outskirts at daylight. The amount of money stolen is not

DEADLOCKED FOR 38 HOURS.

Nine of the Jury Favored a Verdict of Guilty, but the Other Three Held Otherwise - The Prisoner's Attorneys Will Apply For Him to Be Let Out on Bond. Another Trial Promised.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Adolph Luetgert, accused of the most remarkable crime of the century, will have another chance to prove that he did not murder his wife and disintegrate her cerpse in a vat full of deadly petash solution.

The jury, after being out a few minutes over 66 hours, was discharged at 11 a. m. yesterday by Judge L. Tuthill after it had officially informed him fer the second time that it could never

It is understood that the jury on its last ballot voted as follows:

For conviction—Shaw, Fowler, Fran-zen, Bibby, Mahency, Behmiller, Heichhold, Hosmer and Boyd. For acquittal—Harley, Holabird and

The beginning of the end of the legal battle over the fate of Luetgert came a few minutes before 10 o'clock. At that time Judge Tuthill reached the criminal court building. He immediately sent for State's Attorney Dencen, for Attorney Vincent, for Attorney Phalen and for Luetgert, the prisoner.

After a few minutes' talk the court sent for Foreman Heichhold. He was interrogated as to the possibility of the jury arriving at a verdict. He replied that he saw no chance of such an outcome. The further information was vouchsafed that the jury stood nine for conviction and three for acquittal and also that this had been the status of affairs for the last 38 hours

"When we will get at it, however, is something I can not tell you now. havo had nine weeks of this and I must have a couple weeks' rest. After that we will look the ground over and get our evidence together. The case stands now with us as though there had never been a trial. The second trial has no closed.

The trial of the Luetgert case consumed uine week, and, were it possible to give an itemized account of the expense to the state and the defendant, the figures would scarcely be eredited. To a large extent the matter of cost can only be estimated. Those who are familiar with the expenses attached to the trial of cases have estimated the cost to the state all the way from $25, 000 to $50,000. Probably the truth lies in a medium between these figures.

To begin with, the state procured an extra appropriation of $3,500 from the county board for the purposes of the prosecution. This was gone for actual daily running expenses before the trial had proceeded three weeks. The state then succeeded in getting another appropriation of $2,500. This money was obtained solely for the purpose of paying expert witnesses and to defray the expenses of the police investigation, and it was all expended before the end of the trial.

It is quite probable that some prose-cutions for perjury will result from the Luetgert ease. It is given on first class authority that the testimony of two of the principal witnesses for the defense will be laid before the grand jury for an investigation. It may be that more than two people will be included in the list that will be carried to the grand jury, but it is practically settled that indictments will be asked for against two, probably before the Luetgert caso can be reached for the trial again. The two witnesses against whom it is said indictments will be asked are William Charles, Luetgert's business partner, and Mary Siemmering, the domestio in the Luetgert household.

Luetgert refused to be interviewed, but made the following statement to the public late last night:

"The result of my trial, ending today, is a victory for me because of the disagreement of the jury, but I am very much disappointed and very much surprised that the jury, did not bring in a

The Augusta Chronicle Doubts Whether He Could Draw An Indictment For the Most Trivial Offense.

[Augusta Chronicle]

E. Daum, candidate for Commonwealth's Attorney, in resisting the payment of notes given on a steam threshing machine, had the executrix swear to the following:

"Oftentimes while cutting in tall grain the separator got wrapped around the cylinder, causing great damage by which we were further damaged in the sum of $250."

Can the public afford to vote for so ignorant a person to represent them in a position so important as that of Commonwealth's Attorney? Could he draw up an indictment for the most trivial offense? His pleadings filed in court are the laughing stock of the youngest attorney at the bar. Can you afford to vote for him?

Through the colums of the Chronicle there has been a constant effort on the part of its management to successfully warn taxpayers of Bracken to be on their guard in selecting men to manage her affairs. The assertion has been made time and again that Ed. Daum is not a fit man to be placed in office. That this is not made from any alterior motive, we give below his action in a suit in which every taxpayer in the county is interested.

When the county got into trouble with Sheriff Sheehy, and it became necessary to bring suit for an accounting the Fiscal Court showed its contempt for his ability as a lawyer by making an order empowering him to employ an attorney competent to bring the suit. He approached attorney John B. Clarke with understanding that he charge the Magistrates $1,500 for his services and he would not oppose the bill when it came before the Fiscal Court. For this service Mr. Clark was to give Daum $500 on the quiet. Mr. Clark very properly told him that he had missed his man and that he would not soil his hands with any such actions. He then applied to Hon. Wm. Goebel with the same result. The Sheriff's account was finally "compromised" at a loss of $16,000 of the hard earned money of the taxpayers of this

THIRTY-FIVE years ago last Snndaythat is to say October 17, 1862—asix-inch snow fell throughout Kentucky. Major Jerry Powell, who has a faculty for remembering such things, tells the Richmond Register that it had been unusually dry all the summer and the snow broke up the drouth.

THE late Hon. Frank Chambers, one of the finest lawyers in Kentucky, and who also stood at the top at the Cincinnati bar, was instrumental in keeping the county seat at Washington as long as he lived there and until his removal to the Queen City. An old resident was telling a correspondent a few days ago how Mr. Chambers always "balked every move that was made towards removing the court house so long as his home was in Washington. When he removed to Cincinnati, of course, he lost interest in the case. He was one of the handsomest and most striking looking men we have ever

According to reports presented at the Indianapolis meeting this week, the Christian Church now has 1,051,079 communicants, and church property valued at over $16,000,000. Following are the gains for last year: Churches, 422; communicants, 47,407; in Bible schools, 627; scholars and teachers in Bible schools, 36,413; ministers, 420. The National Board of Education has arranged for a regular quarterly publication, to be called a "Bulletin of the Board of Education." The church now has nearly 8,000 Snnday schools in America, with 85,000 teachers and officers. These schools give onethird of the contributions to the foreign mission work. There are 3,987 Christian Endeavor Societies reported, showing a net gain of 333.

[Portsmouth Blade]

There was a great commotion on the midnight C. and O. train last night just this side of Maysville. A passenger went to the closet and while there dropped his pocket book off the train. He did not wait to arrange his toilet, but made a dash for the bell cord. His appearance created a stampede among the ladies, and his pull on the cord caused a quick stoppage of the train.

The train crew rushed in the car surrounded the excited passenger. He attempted to explain, but the conductor was mad and refused to listen to any explanation. He was seized and roughly put off the train, and the conductor gave the signal to go ahead. The passenger doubtless put in the balance of the night hunting for that lost pocket book, POLK MILLER, whose negro d'alect throughout the country with so much pleasure, has made a new departure. This season he is assisted by Oscar P. Sisson, the well known comedian, and little Esther Wallace, Mr. Sisson's niece and companion on the stage. Miss Wallace is pretty, graceful and sings delightfully. Mr. Sisson and Miss Wallace produce a clever musical-comedy sketch, as a curtain-raiser, and then Mr. Miller holds the boards with his wonderful delineation of darky humor and pathos. The third part of the performance is where Mr. Miller appears as "Uncle Daniel," in a character sketch, and gives a study of the old time negro dialect, color, costume and all. Mr. Sisson and Miss Wallace also have parts in this act that serve to show their particular talents to the best advantage. As a whole the entertainment is unique and has been meeting with crowded houses and most creditable comment wherever given. The Miller-Sisson-Wallace combination will appear at court house next Monday evening. Street cars at the postoffice after the entertainment.

The Crop of the United States For 1397 Is Nearly a Failure.

New York, Oct. 22.—Not sinco 1892 has the potato crop of the United States proved so nearly a failnre, says The American Agriculturist in its final report of the yield of 1897. Compared with the liberal crop of last year, there' is an apparent falling off of nearly 30 per cent in tonnage and the quality of the whole is greatly deficient.

County and township returns from all the leading potato growing states to this weekly newspaper, show the yield of potatoes to be 174,000,000 bnshels against 245,000,000 in 1896; 286,000,000 in 1895; 185,000,000 in 1894 and only 155,000,000 in the short crop of 1892, The avorago rate of yield per acre is placed at 64 bushels taking the country at large, against 86 bushels in 1896, 89 in 1895, and 62 in 1892.

The reasons for disaster to the potatoe crop of 1897 are about as varied as a multiplicity of causes could make them. Standing out with more prominence than any other two factors are blight and rot, as a rosult of extremes of weather conditions. While the yield in bnshels is small, the quality is almost as deficient. This is true of most, but not all states. The crop is best in the northwest. Such portions of Canada as make a specialty of potatoes, notably Ontario and the Maritime provinces, show a general but not sorious shortage.

THE LATE JAMES GRAY.

A Tribute to a Worthy Christian Man, One of Fleming County's Respected Citizens.

Called to his rest. James Gray, aged sixtythree years, of Fleming County, passed from his husy, active life to the slumber of the just. Monday, October 18th, alter an illness of ten days. being stricken with paralysis while on the highway returning to his home which he never again was to see.

Truly, "In the midst of lile we are in death," for this man of God had not complained, was not enfeehled, nor had he any presentiment of the approch of death. His end was as his life had heen, peaceful, quiet and calm.

For forty-four years a consistent and humble foliower of the Savior, his lamp was trimmed and ready, for his principle in lite had heen to watch-for ye know not the hour; it may be at evening, it may be at midnight or at the cock erowing or at such a time as ye think not; and in as much as the silver cord was broken so ruthlessly it is no wonder we find words cold and unsympathetic in expressing condolence and ameliorating the affliction which, in his sudden death, has fallen upon the devoted wife and children. But to these bereaved ones it is a blessed memory they possess in the rich heritage of a noble life so closely linked to theirs, for this husband, this father, was the soul of goodness. All our praises of him are like streams "Drawn from a spring that still rise full and leave the part remaining greatest." Benevolent, kind and the soul of integrity, his friendship for his fellowmen was founded upon the second great commandment given him by his Savior, while the beautiful side of his life shown resplendently around the hearthstone, there the ride of his humble service showed charmingly the source of earthly happiness, there the limitation of God broke effulgently; radiating and illuminating because the golden rule was the sum total of this subject's life. It is no wonder then that in the language of a sweet singer who had sounded the depths and shoals of g eat lives we conclude this peroration to James Gray:

"So when a good man dies,
For years beyond his ken
The light he leaves behind him ites
Upon the path of men."

To the broken hearted widow, and the eleven children who are called upon to mourn the love of a devoted father, we say place your trust in God. Through your tears look up and behold the beckoning hands awaiting you there where no shocks are leit, no sorrows known, even Heaven the blessed haven is now closer drawn to one of the eleven children who survive is Mr. Lee B. Gray, Superintendent of the electric light plant in this city.
